

Episode Eight – Vikki video diary Transcript

I've just read the assessment criteria they're gonna use, and to be honest, it should be okay for me. We have to evidence our individual contribution, and since I wrote the role play and researched all the theory, that should be easy.

I'm not sure how I'm going to evidence my ideas yet though, or how I helped the group work as part of a team. I'm not sure that writing a reflective assignment will prove anything though, I mean, we could write whatever we wanted, and nobody's gonna say that didn't do much, are they? Dr. Jones won't know that Shireen wasn't the leader, and I bet Rob says he did tons.

I thought the purpose of group work was to work as a team, and I think this will make some people be all controlling and competitive again. We should just get one shared grade and that's it.
