

Episode Four Transcript

- Muzz: So, in my head, I know what I want to say, but it never comes out right. It's frustrating: back at home I would never have these problems.
- Vikki: That's really interesting: I hadn't thought of it like that.
- Shireen: No I haven't either. But, like forty minutes has passed now, so I think we should get some work done.
- Vikki: Yeah, this is the main content of the presentation though, so it is work.
- Delia: Yeah, you're right, but we probably should move on now. Why don't we just all write our own bits down.
- Muzz: Erm...I'm just looking at this. We can't do four minutes each on our learning experience. The presentation is only twenty minutes. So that won't leave time for an introduction or a conclusion.
- Vikki: Yeah, but we're not doing four minutes each on our learning experiences, we're just speaking for four minutes in the presentation. We'll just make one list of barriers and present one, and besides, if we all speak about our own experiences, we'll repeat each other.
- Delia: Oh, I thought we were all gonna talk for four minutes on our own personal experiences.
- Muzz: Me too.
- Shireen: No, I think Vikki's right; we'll just make one list and introduce one each.
- Rob: Yeah
- Shireen: "Each student should deliver an aspect of the presentation," so we were right: it doesn't have to be a commentary of our personal experiences, and it doesn't have to be four minutes each either.
- Delia: Okay, so we interpreted it a little bit differently. But it's not the end of the world, and I think this is better, because it gives us more scope to think about who can present what.
- Rob: We wouldn't have this confusion if we had someone leading the group; making group decisions.
- Shireen: (Laughs) Well I said we'd have a leader in the first week, but you didn't want one then. If we're gonna have one, I could do it because I've done it before.
- Vikki: We're doing okay as we are: we don't need one if we all work together.
- Delia: Yeah I don't think we need a leader. We're not kids. What do you think, Muzz?
- Muzz: I think you should be leader, Delia.
- Rob: Yeah.
- Delia: Look, I will lead if everybody wants me to, but I really don't think we need a leader.
- Shireen: No offence, Delia, but if we do have one, I think we need someone who's got experience of leading groups. We need somebody who's gonna be strong enough to move things forward, because we're running out of time.

Delia: Well actually, I have got some experience, and maybe what this group needs is somebody to coordinate, rather than dominate.

Shireen: Oh, well thanks a lot Delia. Do you know what? If you're so good at coordinating, why don't you take over?! Because at the moment, this project's a right mess. I'm not getting a bad mark over this.

Rob: I say we have a vote for group leader right now. I vote for Delia.

Muzz: I agree.

Vikki: I still don't think we need one.
